

COMPOSE

Inbox (634)

Starred

Important

Sent Mail

Drafts (67)

[imap]/Drafts

Apple Mail To Do

Archives

Deleted Messages

Migrated/sent-mail

Search people...

- Cashman, Christ ...
- Clara Magram
- Eva T. Cunningham
- Gilmore, Agatha
- Jessica Brucas
- Kris Kavanaugh
- Marina Tourevski
- Mark Newton
- Palmieri, Dewey (...)
- Wiesendanger, B...

RE: permission request, Journal of Economic Sociology article

Inbox x

Котельникова Зоя Владиславовна

12:02 PM (38 minutes ago)

to me

Dear Ginny,

I'm very sorry that we missed your previous messages for some technical reasons and Prof. Dan Wang have the editorial permission from the Journal of Economic Sociology to post a PDF version of the article. If you need a Russian version, you can find it here.

Do you need any official letter or it is okay to have this email?

Best wishes

Zoya Kotelnikova

From: Ginny Wiehardt mailto:[glw2113@columbia.edu]

Sent: Friday, September 16, 2016 7:46 PM

To: Котельникова Зоя Владиславовна

Subject: permission request, Journal of Economic Sociology article

Dear Dr. Kotelnikova,

I'm writing with regard to an article published in the Journal of Economic Sociology.

The 2013 article, authored by Columbia professor Dan Wang, is called "Is There a Canon in Economic Sociology?" Professor Wang would like to post a PDF of the chapter on his page on the Columbia Business School's Ideas at Work Web site. Ideas at Work houses a faculty's research, and it is freely accessible through the Business School's Web site (www.cbs.edu/ideas-at-work) for anyone interested in the scholarship conducted by its faculty.

I can assure you that our archiving effort is entirely scholarly in nature. We will never claim to replicate the services offered by your publication. If you have any questions, please contact me as I am coordinating this effort on behalf of the Business School.